

From: Olof Kindgren

Title: The gates are open: An overview of the OpenRISC ecosystem

Abstract: Open Source design methodologies are on the verge to make a big impact on digital design and there is already a lot of Open Source design in use, both in academia and in the industry. This presentation aims to give an overview of one of the largest and most longstanding projects which is almost exclusively community driven - the OpenRISC project with its surrounding ecosystem of IP cores, hardware and software

Length: 30 min